

III Meeting

Workshop of the CNPq Consolidated Group Project

Schedule

11/04/2025

12:30 – The Natural History of the Gall Group - Rosy Isaias (UFMG)

13:10 – Plant galls: implications for the chemical profile and biological activity of their host plants
– Lúbia Guedes (UdeC – Chile)

13:50 – Interaction time (PARTICIPATION OF THE Building Botanical Perception TEAM)

COFFEE BREAK 16:00

16:30 – Galls on Malus domestica: from anatomical to agronomical perspectives - Edgard Picoli (UFV)

17:10 – Contextualizing witches' brooms and their impact on plant physiology - Ana Silvia Moreira (UFU)

17:50 - Galls induced by root-knot nematode: impacts on host development, histology, and cell wall dynamics – Denis Oliveira (UFU)

12/04/2025

08:00 – Beyond my PhD thesis, how can I apply my knowledge? Elaine Costa (FURG) – Patrícia Santos (UFU) – Igor Arriola (UFMG)

08:40 – Galls on Cassava (Manihot esculenta): structure, coloration, and stress dissipation – Vinícius Kuster (UFSJ)

09:20 - Anatomical evidence of resistance mechanisms in economically-relevant plant-gall systems – Renê Carneiro (UFG)

COFFEE BREAK 10:00

10:30 - Atlantic Forest Galls and their Structural and Chemical Potentials – Bruno Ferreira (UFRJ)

11:10 Galls in cultivated and native plants: a comparative analysis – Thiago Magalhães (UFLA)

12:00 – Colomerus vitis: A growing threat to grape production in Chile and worldwide – Narciso Aguilera (UdeC – Chile)

12:40 - How can we go on: The next generation – Rosy Isaias (UFMG) and Denis Oliveira (UFU)

13:00 – Confraternization lunch time

13:50 – Interaction time (PARTICIPATION OF THE Building Botanical Perception TEAM)

Product – Short documentary on

Who is who in the gall group?

1. Each student will sort a “hidden friend” to whom he/she will prepare a simple question and write the name of his friend and a question on a sheet of paper.
2. An organizer gets a paper and calls the person to introduce him/herself (e.g.: I am Rosy Isaias from UFMG,) and answer the question out loud. The responses will be recorded in the garden or somewhere else to compose part of the documentary.
3. The dream cloud.
 - a. The question here is: What would you like for the Gall Group in 2025?
 - b. Everyone registers their answer in Mentimeter to form the cloud.
 - c. To finish, each one says his/her dream out loud but uses the past tense verb.
